News From Your TOWN HALL

The Town Clerk is preparing the delinquent tax list for advertisement during the month of July. If you haven't paid your '43 taxes it would be well to get right down there and pay up. The penalty for the month of June is 5 per cent and will be 4 per cent next month plus advertising charges.

The Town registration books are open in preparation for the September 12th election when two Commissioners will be selected. If you are eligible to register and you haven't, go down and do that and see that your wife or other members of the family do the same. Boys are dying for your privilege to do this—so why not be sure you perform.

The Town Fathers added a new property to the restricted list of sites for the sale of alcoholic beverages—three lots just west of the Town Hall property. It is understood that this was done to allow a package store to be opened with liquor to be sold at ceiling prices.

Those who feel the bug hitting them for political adventure, or a continuance of a political career will have fifteen days in which to file for the office of Commissioner—two jobs in fact. The dates must be not more than forty days nor less than twenty-five days before election. The election will be on September 12.

Rader Properties, Inc., have secured the okay by the Town of a subdivision in the South 1-2 of Lot 3 of the Hiatus, which is a negro subdivision.

The resurfacing and repair of the Town's streets is going ahead and will continue until the available money is exhausted with the most needed streets receiving preference.

Water Control System With Robot Operation Installed By Tabit

T. S. Tabit, a native of Palm Beach county and a farmer of wide experience has combined his experiences with water control in the muck and his natural mechanical abilities to produce a robot controlled drainage and irrigation system on a section of land near here.

The section of land has eight separate water control units and 80 acres each designed to maintain a constant water table below ground level or flood level depending on the water level of the adjoining 80 acre plot.

There is a main pumping canal thru the center of the section with two pumps and connected to this are the eight other self controlled pumping units. Between each unit is a dyke with a core ditch and a ditch on each side. The theory of the core ditch is that by first digging a ditch under where the dyke is built and refilling it with muck any cracks will be filled.

There will be available at the Herald office copies of the report of the Advisory Committee on Water Control, Soil Conservation and Use, for all landowners and others interested.

Dr. R. V. Allison demonstrated by graphs last night that the Glades has already lost 5 1/2 feet of the original muck and we have only three feet left before farming will not be practicable.

Turner Wallis, Manager of the E. D. District pointed out that the Report clearly shows that extensive repairs and improvements to the existing canals and facilities will only care for approximately half of the lands from which they may feed.

It is evident that the Glades has a problem of conserving and handling water of which there seems to be enough provided by nature, provided it is properly handled.

Each farmer should obtain a copy of this report and through study and questions of his neighbor know something of the plan to be proposed.

There will be another meeting on June 26th for further discussion of this problem and all farmers and landowners are urged to be there.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Henderson

Funeral services were conducted at the Community Methodist church Thursday afternoon for Mrs. Ethel Winifred Henderson, 42, who was drowned late Friday night while the automobile in which she was riding plunged into the Palm Beach Canal seven miles west of West Palm Beach. Rev. Jay O. Jameson was in charge of the service and members of the American Legion and Legion Auxiliary took part in the ceremony. Burial was at Woodlawn Cemetery, West Palm Beach.

Pallbearers were Joe Cherry, George Tedder, Luther Jones, Richard Haff, Joe Freedman and George Farnall. Frank Morris was flagbearer.

Mrs. Henderson had lived in Belle Glade for the past 12 years and was employed as office nurse and secretary to Dr. William J. Buck. Survivors are two sons, Mrs. Fay Davis of San Francisco, Cal., and Mrs. Ed Folds of Joplin, Mo., a brother, W. M. Metheny of San Francisco, Cal., and a niece, Mrs. Mary Taylor of Joplin.

The accident occurred about 11:00 o'clock Friday night about taking the life of Gordon Conover, 33, of West Palm Beach, another passenger in the car. George H. Skinner, owner and driver of the car, escaped with minor injuries. He was later arrested on two charges of manslaughter and taken to the county jail.

Informants charged that Skinner was driving at a high rate of speed while under the influence of liquor and struck the rear of an automobile, causing his own to plunge into the canal while the other car was driven into the woods. The bodies of Mrs. Henderson and Conover were in the car when it was recovered from the canal.

Highway patrolmen said the two were drowned, but they had also suffered severe head injuries, apparently caused by being thrown against the dashboard when the collision occurred.

Infantile Paralysis Care Outlined By Board Of Health

Dr. E. F. Hoffman, Director of the Bureau of Epidemiology, states that June through September is the season when infantile paralysis generally is on the upswing in the United States. The following suggestions are compiled by The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and The State Board of Health with respect to the disease where poliomyelitis is on the march.

1. During an outbreak of infantile paralysis be alert to any early signs of disease or changes in normal state of health, especially in children. Do not assume that a domestic pet, such as a dog, cat, or bird, is the cause of the disease. Severe headache or signs of a cold and fever are of no importance. The only way to prevent the first symptoms of infantile paralysis. All children and adults sick with unexplained fever should be put to bed in isolated pending medical diagnosis.

2. Don't feel calling a physician. Expert medical care given early may prevent many of the crippling deformities. Proper care from the onset may make the difference between a life of suffering and a normal life.

3. Be sure that every known case or suspected case of poliomyelitis has been reported to the health department.

4. Today there is no known prevention or protection against infantile paralysis. All that can be done is to provide the best possible care. Your doctor, your health officer, the Florida Crippled Children's Hospital, and your local Chapter of The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis can and will do everything in their power to protect you in the isolation and care of these cases and see to it that your community is ready to meet an epidemic.

5. Observe these simple precautions:

- (a) Avoid overtiring and excessive fatigue from strenuous exercise.
- (b) Avoid sudden chilling such as would come from a plunge in cold water on a very hot day.
- (c) Pay careful attention to personal cleanliness, such as (Continued on page 3)

Back The Invasion Buy More Bonds Is Home Front Slogan

Purchase by 100 Percent Of Its Membership Is Goal of Each Club

Milton Campbell, Chairman of the War Finance Committee for this area, at a called meeting of representatives of all civic clubs, initiated the local campaign for the fifth War Loan Drive.

As in the last drive each organization in the Community will undertake to secure purchase from each member of each organization as a starter towards the goal of $750,000.

Among those organizations represented were Lions, Legions, Rotary, Woman's Club, Merchants Assoc. of the Chamber of Commerce, The Business and Professional Women's Club, the Masonic organization and W. M. and W. G. Taylor representing the negroes.

The Community's quota of E bonds would normally be approximately $110,000, but due to the fact that a great majority of our purchasers will be individuals our quota of "E" bonds will be much higher—approximately $200,000.

Mr. Campbell says "there will be no overplaying in solicitation as a great many of our people belong to several organizations and will, therefore, be solicited from each organization. So, may be those extra solicitations will enable you to search out some method of buying more bonds than you had originally intended. Please remember that the workers are all volunteers and a word of encouragement, even if you have other arrangements, will help the great cause along."

The boy scouts will be utilized in this campaign as a mopping up brigade to insure that all persons have an opportunity to buy. BACK THE INVASION—BUY MORE BONDS.

15,000 Carload Season Movement Brings 1 1/2 Millions To Glades

Fuel Oil Forms Ready Early Return Desired

Householders of Belle Glade were urged today by Mr. Chamblie, chairman of the local OPA War Price and Rationing Board to return their next season's fuel oil renewal forms as promptly as possible.

The forms were mailed out this week by the board to all fuel oil users in this area, Mr. Chamblie said. "The sooner these forms are filled out and returned, by mail, to the board," he added, "the sooner we can begin processing them and issuing oil ration coupons. We would like to have the forms returned within seven days."

"The earlier these coupons are issued, the better," Mr. Chamblie said, "because it is necessary for consumers to order part of their next season's supply of heating oil immediately. When dealers make their first deliveries during the summer, they are able to give consumers better delivery service through the heating year because it will help them solve their pressing manpower and delivery problems. More important, filling consumers' tanks early will add appreciably to dealers' storage capacity and thereby allow more oil to be brought in now for use next winter."

The renewal applications are to be filled out only by those persons whose oil ration last year was for the same address as this year, Mr. Chamblie said. These may be persons who either are living at the same address for which last year's ration was issued or who control the burning equipment at that address (as in case of a landlord). Other oil users not included in these categories will be given a chance to fill out another application later.

While the questions may be answered without difficulty by most householders, there may be some special circumstances in some cases which a consumer would want to clear up in order to be sure he is answering correctly. In any such cases, consumers are advised to call 253 where all questions will gladly be answered, the chairman said.

Zoning Committee Invites Inspection Of Its Proposals

The Committee appointed by Mayor Baker to study and present a proposed plan of zoning for the Town is now ready to make its preliminary recommendation, both as to the ordinance and specified territories affected by the restriction.

Before making this report formally Mr. Risk, Chairman of the Committee, and the members who are interested to meet at the Town Hall Friday night at 8:00 o'clock for the purpose of discussing the proposed ordinance.

A glance at the map indicates that a lot of work has been done on this proposition by the Committee and consideration for the possible future growth of the Town and community guided their recommendations.

The Committee cannot, however, anticipate the intended use of property owners, and naturally cannot weight their intentions against the best interests of the community and its future growth unless it is informed by property owners. It behooves all property owners to appear when given an opportunity and investigate instead of waiting until the law is passed and then become violent with mental and gastronomic upheavals.

It is well for property owners, and most especially subdividers, to realize that to protect their surrounding buildings a restriction written in the deed in a legal manner is the only sure method. Town zoning, however, is most necessary as a supplement and an overall guide.

Ration Board Sets Summer Schedule

J. H. Chamblie, chairman of the Rationing Board, is announcing that beginning Monday, June 19th, the Board will hold meetings on Mondays and Fridays only at 1:30 p.m. This will be effective through the summer months.

Twenty-Two Varieties Of Vegetables Included But Weather Reduces Yields

Scarcity and no ceiling price on seed, indifference of over-indulged labor, priorities on shipping containers, inadequate ice manufacturing, war belabored transportation, OPA's vacillating consideration of ceiling prices, and ceiling prices, unseasonable weather, the selective service requirements, and whatever else you might imagine didn't deter the Glades farmers effectively during the past season from previous records.

Uncle Samuel said he wanted the green vegetables for our boys and the Glades farmers gave up. They gave more than 15,000 carloads despite a 50 to 60 per cent spring crop. In return the Glades farmers had the doubtful prospect of receiving for transfer to seed, fertilizer, equipment, hamper and fuel men that part that didn't go to time killing $5-$15 per acre. The farmer barely broke even, despite some very bright spots. Innumerable farmers have declared vehemently that the acreage will be cut for next year, but that is an annual song. When the market demands the beans and celery and other items, usually it comes along from unlikely directions.

Beans, once The crop of the Glades still accounted for approximately 7,000 of the cars and more than $8,000,000 of the money, but it is indicative of a healthy condition that beans represent only about 45 per cent of quality and of the money returns.

Celery, with 2554 cars is second in cars and in money income—$3,800,000. The last celery shipped brought around $8 a ton, which makes the farmer smile and helped him to get even on previous losses.

Cabbage was third in volume of the movement, with 1,400 cars in the money returns with 1925 cars for a total of $1,650,000. Mixed vegetables, which is a general dukies mixture of whatever there is and destined mostly to the southeastern states accounted for 1585 cars for an estimated total of $2,302,500. This is growing and indicates distribution to the smaller markets.

Potatoes totaled 769 cars for slightly under one million dollars. Among the 17 other vegetables grown and shipped, car lots are tomatoes, squash, rare, romaine, radishes, peppers, peas, onions, lettuce, escarole, endive, and other items. The most valuable cabbage, chery, carrots and beets.

Cattle fattening Another item of the Glades which is fast becoming a major importance is cattle fattening. From Jim Beardsley's 12 acre farm on road No. 25, about a half west side of the County, where he keeps some sixty odd animals at all times around to stand where larders and consider that there are several thousand steers and other types of feeders in herds of ten to 400. The "bug" is growing and talk is going of a packing house for post war planning.

The Everglades Experiment Station has started on experiments in feeding native grown foods to native cattle with encouraging results. The station is also conducting an experiment in the war the Glades is developing in an agricultural domain of stability and gettaway from the one-crop economy.

Sweet potatoes and now Ramon as proposed by the U. S. Sugar Corp. offer new opportunities for the Glades farmer to diversify.

through hand washing before eating. Hygienic habits should always be observed.

(d) If possible avoid tonsil and adenoid operations during epidemics. Careful study has shown that such operation when done during an epidemic tend to increase the danger of contracting infantile paralysis in its most serious form.

(e) Use the purest milk and water you can. Keep flies away from food. While the exact means of spread of the disease is not known, contaminated water and milk are always dangerous and flies have repeatedly been shown to carry the infantile paralysis virus.

(f) Do not swim in polluted water.

(g) Maintain community sanitation at a high level at all times.

(h) Avoid all unnecessary contact with persons with any illness suspicious of infantile paralysis.

(i) Do not become hysterical if cases do occur in your neighborhood. While infantile paralysis is communicable or catching during any outbreak, there are many who have such a slight infection that there are few or no symptoms. This large number of unrecognized infections is one of the reasons there is no practical way of preventing the spread of the disease. But it is of the many persons who become infected, few develop serious illness and that, with good care, the majority who are stricken will make satisfactory recovery. Remember that although this is a frightful disease, needless fear and panic only cause more trouble.

7. Attempts to stop the spread of the virus by closing places where people congregate have been uniformly unsuccessful. The resulting disturbance to community life is a disadvantage. To-day there is no way by which the spread of infantile paralysis can be completely stopped.

8. There is no known cure for infantile paralysis. Good medical care will prevent or correct some deformities. But in about every fourth or fifth case there will be permanent paralysis that cannot be overcome. Do not believe those who for one reason or another promise to cure these cases. These services are rendered at five points throughout the state, namely Pensacola, St. Petersburg, Jacksonville, Miami and Orlando. Each of these points are located in the five Crippled Children's Commission Service districts for the state.

Authorization for transportation of the poliomyelitis suspects or cases to one of these points may be obtained by contacting Dr. Terry Bird, Director of Services, Tallahassee, Florida.

Preschool Children Should See Doctor

The infant and preschool child were stressed this week by the State Board of Health of those most vitally in need of immunization against communicable diseases.

The highest rate of deaths in Florida, due to the diseases for which we have protective measures, occurs in these age groups, according to Dr. E. F. Hoffman, Bureau of Epidemiology. These deaths, however, can only be prevented if available preventive procedures are applied.

The diseases uppermost in mind against which small children should be immunized are diphtheria, smallpox, typhoid and whooping cough.

"It is urged that immunization be obtained from private family physicians. Those who feel financially unable to go to a private doctor however, may secure their treatment from the local health departments. All infants should be immunized for smallpox and diphtheria before they are one year of age."

The trend against mass school immunizations is becoming stronger each year, Hoffman said. The one-time manner of having a long line of children waiting their turn for "shots" is definitely discouraged. Parents are urged to accompany their small youngsters when immunizations are in order. The parent and child should be prepared to look upon the family doctor as a protector, and not as a "booby man." Children should not be frightened by parents threatening to have them immunized. Immunization, whether in the doctor's office or in the Child Health Clinic should be given following adequate explanation to both parent and child, with them seated and comfortably at ease.

Hoffman said that the number of diphtheria cases and deaths reported each year in Florida indicates that the job of protecting our children from the disease is far from complete. Babies should be immunized against diphtheria between the 12 and 18 months of age, preferably before the end of the first year.

Infants should also have whooping cough vaccine routinely by six months of age and before the end of the first year, with one additional treatment two years later. Children should be immunized for whooping cough at any age if there is a threatened epidemic.

Water Control, Soil Use And Conservation Most Important To The Glades

Close to 100 persons attended a meeting Thursday night at the Town Hall for the purpose of discussing the question of Water Control and Soil Use and Conservation. The basis of the discussion is a report made by an Advisory Committee appointed by the Everglades Drainage District to compile and collect all available information on the overall water control problem of the District.

Among those present were representatives from the City of Miami interested in fresh water supply. Lake Worth Drainage District officials from Lake Worth, West Palm Beach, the U. S. Sugar Corporation, local farmers and members of the County Resources Board.

Dr. R. V. Allison, who through his soil studies long ago pointed out the need for conservation of the soil by retarding or eliminating its health status and practices should bring their entire family's immunization status up-to-date. The adult or parent of infants, preschool and school children should obtain these services from the family physician whenever they are financially able to do so.

However, a continuous year-round program of immunization service should be provided each locality throughout the State. This service should be available to anyone, so that no one goes unprotected from smallpox, diphtheria, typhoid or whooping cough because of lack of funds.

Take Care of That Truck For Duration

Truck operators were again urged by the Office of Defense Transportation yesterday to keep their trucks in proper repair so as to obtain many more miles of operation than would be required under normal conditions.

Strict adherence to a plan of systematic preventive maintenance and repair, T. B. McGahey, ODT District Manager at Miami said, should prolong the life of the average truck as much as three times its ordinary span.

The truck manufacturing industry is producing this year about as many new trucks as it has produced in the best of its previous years, Mr. McGahey said, but most of them are for military use.

The industry's available manufacturing capacity is large enough to produce trucks in quantity for either military or civilian use, but not in sufficient volume to meet both demands, the ODT official explained.

The 88,000 new trucks scheduled for civilian use this year, he emphasized, will not be enough to supply all who desire new equipment, and most operators will have to make their old trucks last.

By following the ODT's previous maintenance and rehabilitation program, truck operators can recondition their present vehicles so that they will have equipment just as reliable as a new truck, he declared.

Boy Scouts Hold Court Of Honor

A special meeting of the Boy Scouts was held at the hut on Wednesday night when A. J. Patterson, Executive of the Gulf Stream Council gave an interesting talk on snakes and the identification of poisonous and non-poisonous types. He exhibited several live specimens of the latter type.

A Court of Honor was held with Ralph Kidder presenting the cards of promotion of Lee Burke to Second Class Scout and Edmund Jameson to First Class Six South Bay Scouts were advanced to Second Class. They were Ray Spencer, Harrie Martin, Ralph Goodland, Willis Warren, Marion Vail and R. P. Lockmiller.

The entire South Bay Troop were present, attended by Scoutmaster L. D. Hardy and J. S. Strickland. A large attendance of the Belle Glade Scouts was recorded also.

Scoutmaster Frank Miller gave a hot dog roast in the city park following the meeting. Dr. Joe Neller assisted.

Large Class Of Local Men Take The Shrine

A large class of 32nd degree masons journeyed to Miami recently to be initiated into the Mahi Temple of the Shrine.

It is reported that members of the local detail were given major parts in the parade and that part open to the public, and it is to be presumed that the private initiation was generously sprinkled with local candidates playing major roles.

Among those taking the Shrine nating erosion, oxidation was joined by Turner Wallis in the statement that existing waterways after extensive improvements would only take care of water control for less than half of the available farm lands.

The answer by the problems as pointed out in the report. Water will retain its position through oxidation, will prevent erosion and save the lands, and will be utilized by the farmer for his crops.

Miami must have fresh water supply, West Palm Beach must have a fresh water supply.

It was demonstrated that our problem in the Glades is tied up with those of other surrounding communities and all must work together to find some answer.

This meeting is one of several to be held throughout the affected area for discussion for the benefit of the Advisory Committee.

are: Joe Cherry, Joe Freedlund, John Kirk, Al Kirschman, Slick Kirschman, Kenneth Lutz, J. K. Baker, Pete Suran, Allen Greer, D. C. DeHaven, Everett Waters, Dick LeFils and Chas. Maynard. Mr. George Mason of Moore Haven accompanied the local contingent to Miami for the work.

Returns From State Convention

Mr. N. M. Harlan, Pastor of the Seven-Day Adventist church in Belle Glade, and family have returned from the state convention held in Orlando. He reports a very large attendance. "This was one of the most spiritual sessions that I have ever attended. People seem to be in a mood to seek God in a real way," said Pastor Harlan.

The celebration of the Lord's Supper will be held at the Seventh-Day church at the 11 o'clock hour Saturday. The Young People's Society will meet at 7:30. At the mid-week prayer meeting Pastor Harlan will give another Bible study on the Sanctuary Service.

WATER CONTROL SYSTEM

Concrete bridges connect the entire lay-out and all pumps are installed with concrete foundations and galvanized metal pump houses. Adjustable gates are installed at each concrete bridge. The water level can be controlled by adjusting the gates at each end of fields in case of pumping in.

By a series of ingenious mechanical arrangements a pump may be cranked up and run for any specified time by control of the fuel. The engines are specially converted Model "A's" that burn distillate after being cranked on gas. There is also an arrangement whereby when the engines are stopped the distillate is drained out of the carburetor and replaced by gas for the next starting.

Mr. Tahl is planning a rock road on each side of his middle ditch with rock from the main pumping canal.

Housing for 100 farm laborers and a foreman, together with barns and equipment sheds have been erected.
